Written by Marco Attard
15. December 2017

iPhone 8 and X users (or owners of any smartphone with wireless charging capability) get a more adorable charging accessory option-- a wireless charger modeled after Pikachu, the yellow Pokemon with appropriate electric powers.

Made by TeknFun, the Pikachu charger uses Qi induction technology, making it compatible with the latest Apple and Samsung Galaxy smartphones, among others. A trio of USB ports allow it to charge other devices, and Pikachu's cheeks glow red while charging is taking place.

Construction is in soft plastic, and it can carry any device 25cm in length and 15cm tall.

The Pikachu Wireless Charger is available now for all budding trainers.

Go Pikachu Wireless Charger