

Novell launches an app store called SUSE Gallery,with SUSE Linux software appliances for specific business needs.

The gallery provides “a storefront for end users to access more than 415,000 appliances,” according to Novell.

SUSE Gallery arrives one year after Novell launched the SUSE Appliance Program to help ISVs develop turnkey apps for SUSE Linux.

SUSE Linux suffers from Lack of ISV support (most business-Linux ISVs focus first on Red Hat).

The SUSE Appliance Program has attracted 82,000 users and nearly 3 million downloads since launch.
