

Clipping On to Improve Tablet Sound

Written by Marco Attard
19. August 2011

Customers wanting to boost their tablets' sound might just get what they want with Logitech's Tablet Speaker, a clip-on solution for their audio problems.

A rubberised clip attaches the speaker to the tablet's back, while it connects to the device via 3.5mm headphone jack.

Logitech says the speaker has up to 8 hours of power, and the battery charges via USB.

The package also includes a travel case for easy storage.

Go Logitech Tablet Speaker