Octa proposes an interesting means to solve customers' tablet-holding woes-- the TabletTail: Monkey Kit, a suction cup at the end of a long, flexible tail allowing one to use tablets at any angle.

Compatible with all iPad models (as well as any number of other tablets and eReaders), the suction cup carries 5 pumps allowing it to hold devices firmly. It is also rotates 360-degrees for one's ideal viewing angle.

Meanwhile the MonkeyTail features a flexible metal spine covered in "grippy silicon," and can be easily wrapped or wedged around most objects such as bars, limbs or cushions.

The Monkey Kit is available now
