With the iPhone 5 and the next generation of iDevices comes a new Apple connector-- and Bang & Olufsen takes advantage to introduce iPhone 5-compatible upgrade to the BeoPlay A8.

Thanks to an exchangeable connector module, the BeoPlay A8 not only works with the smaller Lightning iDevice connector but is also backwards-compatible with earlier modules.

Users can even remove the connector module completely should they prefer to listen to music in an entirely wireless manner through Apple AirPlay.

Mini-USB and Aux connectivity are also included.

The BeoPlay 8 is both freestanding and wall-mountable, with optimisation providing the best sound depending on location (wall, corner or freestanding).
